How to use this Report

Understanding Integrated Behavioral Fitness

Integrated Behavioral Fitness combines all four dimensions of DISC and uses the behavioral similarities and/or differences to maximize behavioral effectiveness on the job. In this report, all four dimensions of DISC behavior have been integrated in one overall measure of fitness when comparing an individual to a targeted job profile.

Job Profile Fitness

The fitness rating is scored on a scale between 1% and 100%. The fitness rating represents the strength of the relationship between the candidate’s behavioral style and the behavioral requirements of a specific job.

The higher the fitness rating, the more able the candidate’s natural behavioral style can be applied to the task of getting the job done consistent to the job profile.

Applying Fitness Rating

A behavioral style itself is not so much what the individual thinks or says about a person, thing or idea. It’s your observation of how that individual tends to act toward people, things and ideas.

Your behavioral style fitness rating places a candidate’s fitness compared to a specific job benchmark. A three-level rating system is used ranging from poor to excellent to further clarify the fitness rating.

A candidate’s fitness % rating is viewed as their style’s behavioral “distance” from the job style target.

1st Consider the fitness rating score like a score you are familiar with on a scale from 1 to 100. The higher the fitness rating score, the more confident you can be that the desired behaviors you want for a specific job will be observable with this candidate.

2nd Remember that in human relationships, opposite attract because each person has something that other feels will be desirable. However, in the behavioral style fitness rating, attracting opposites is not our goal. Our goal is to reduce the behavioral uncertainty between the behaviors of a candidate and the targeted behaviors for a specific job.

3rd A fitness rating of .75% means that the candidate and the job profile share .75% of the target behaviors whereas 25% of the behavioral style is different. To understand which behaviors are similar or different, look at the 12 factors and four factor details on page 4 of this report.

Please note: When interpreting behavioral style ratings, the lower the fitness rating, the more you can expect the candidate will revert to their natural behavioral style under stressful work conditions caused by the natural demands of the job.

4th There are certain job profiles that are very unique and not easily found in the workplace. While a candidate’s job profile rating may appear lower than desired, the candidate job profile rating may be the "best of the worst" scores.

In these situations, you may need to take two actions: (1) focus on specific attributes of the candidate (use either the (12) factor analysis or (4) factor analysis on page 4) that must fit the job profile and (2) use other work structures, reminders or support for the candidate in those areas that the candidate falls far from the target behavior (see the 12 factors).

5th The general percentile ranking measures the similarity rating for this specific job against the general working population. The general percentile ranking of 85%, for example, means the candidate similarity rating is higher than the scores of 85% of the general working population.

6th Good or Excellent Fitness Ratings means the employee/candidate will spend less energy adapting their behaviors to the behavior required of the targeted job role.

A Good Fitness Rating means the employee/candidate will need to be reminded from time to time of their behavioral effectiveness in their role.

A Poor Fitness Rating means the employee/candidate will need to facilitate their behavioral effectiveness through consistent timely feedback about their behavioral effectiveness.
